TOURNAMENT HISTORY

In 2011, during a regular Shire armored combat practice, one of the fighters spotted a lifeless deer lying at the edge of the field.

The deer remained there for several weeks. Around that time, discussions began about the need for a Shire event to decide the next armored combat Shire Champion.

One fighter proposed calling it the “Tournament of the Fallen Stag,” in honor of the deer that had quietly shared their practice space for so long.

And so it was.

A New Tradition - Tournament Champion

As it happened, the 2014 Tournament high point winner was not a fighter from the Shire, but a fighter from a neighboring land.

So, the fighters assembled and decided that while they wanted to continue to award the title of Shire Champion to a Shire fighter they also desired to honor the overall tournament winner. They established a new, additional champion title, Tournament Champion.

- The title of Shire Champion would continue to be awarded to the Shire armored combat fighter (any participating fighter who lived in the Shire or who regularly played with the Shire) who earned the most points over, or was otherwise deemed to have prevailed over, every other Shire fighter participant in the Tournament.
- A new title, Tournament Champion, would be bestowed upon the participating armored combat fighter, from any branch, who accumulated the most points overall, or was otherwise deemed to have prevailed overall, in the Tournament.
